By CHARLES WEST

BELLPORT, N.Y. (AP)—"The kids behind were screaming and pushing," David Hassell said. "I was terrified."

From a bed crowded into a hospital corridor the 18-year-old senior described the panic of a flash fire that trapped scores of students on the second floor of the Bellport High School Friday.

The state fire commissioner was sent from Albany to help investigate the blaze.

Hassell was shoved through a window and broke both kneecaps landing on a paved area.

The smoke, flames and frantic plunges to earth injured 44 students and a teacher. Injured critically were Hassell, John Allers, 13, and fireman Richard Harrow. They, plus 34 others, were in Brookhaven Memorial Hospital early today. The other 7 were treated and released.

"Thank God, no one is dead!" said Thomas Feeney, principal of the school in this eastern Long Island village of 2,500 about 75 miles east of New York City.

The fire started in the ceiling of the combination auditorium-gymnasium in the old wing—built in 1919—of the school, apparently from defective wiring, according to the first guesses of fire authorities.

Feeney, alerted by two girl students, saw it first as "a circle of flame about a yard in diameter in the ceiling of the gym."

As the alarm was being sounded, smoke and flames raced through the ventilating system. "When I turned around the fire was chasing me down the hall," Feeney said.

About 900 students and 65 teachers were in the building when the alarm sounded about 2 p.m.—15 minutes before school was to be dismissed.

Catholics, Russia May Be Friendlier

By GERALD MILLER

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The meeting between Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law and Pope John XXIII sparked speculation today that the Soviet Union and the Roman Catholic Church may be on the threshold of a major break through to friendlier relations.

Signs of a change between the Kremlin and the Vatican have been evident for months.

The 18-minute private audience which Pope John granted Alexei Adzhubei Thursday was the first face to face meeting in history of a Roman Catholic ruler and a leading figure from the Soviet Union.

Besides his family connection with Premier Khrushchev, Adzhubei, 39, is chief editor of Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper.

The initiative for the meeting came from the Soviet side. Adzhubei and Khrushchev's daughter, Rada, are touring Italy. Vatican officials said the couple asked to see the Pope. Apparently Pope John welcomed the opportunity.

There was no suggestion that communism is coming to terms with the church. Rather, Khrushchev appears ready to try for co-existence with Catholicism.

A major overture came from the Soviets last October. The Russian Orthodox Church accepted the Vatican's invitation to send observers to the Vatican Ecumenical Council. Last month Moscow released a Ukrainian Catholic archbishop held in prison for 18 years.

Pope John's meeting with Adzhubei coincided with reports that some kind of diplomatic or consular tie might be in the making between the Vatican and Moscow. Prior to his meeting with Pope John, Adzhubei said he thought a Vatican consulate in the Soviet Union would be a good idea.

The Adzhubei audience also aroused speculation about freedom for Hungary's Josef Cardinal Mindszenty.

The Hungarian primate has been living at the U.S. Legation in Budapest since the 1956 anti-Soviet Hungarian revolt. He reportedly refuses to leave Hungary.

Happiness and Discipline Are Key Words to Girl Scout Movement the World Over

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Happy Discipline are the key words which have led to the success of the Girl Scout movement in this country and throughout the world. Happiness is the one thing which all humans seek above all else, and Discipline is necessary to its achievement, whether in home, school, church, or other organization.

Juliette Gordon Low knew that when she first organized the Girl Scouts in Savannah, Ga., 51 years ago. For her "barometer," she used the principals set forth by Lord Baden-Powell when he started the Boy Scout organization a few years before in England.

Thirty years ago he prepared an introduction for the Girl Scout Handbook which ended with these words: "It is the spirit in which the law is carried out that really matters. That is the whole essence of our success. The spirit of Scouting may be summed up briefly as 'the work of friendliness and cheerful service.'"

Last year at the Senior Girl Scout Roundup in Bullton Bay, Vt. Mrs. Maria Augusta Trapp, mother of the famous Trapp Family Singers, spoke to the assembled group on the role of women in the world. After all, these girls are the future mothers in our nation, so it was good for them to be told of the privilege and responsibility they will have in guiding their families, their communities, and their nation.

When Mrs. Low founded Girl Scouting, it was her desire to have "something for the girls of all America." Through the years, new and better ways have been established for obtaining that goal. The most recent achievement has been the publication of the first Braille edition of "The American Girl," official Girl Scout magazine.

In this way even girls without sight can greatly benefit from having a magazine of their own. One of the oldest Braille houses in the country is preparing this edition, and the work is done mostly by blind women.

Tomorrow is Girl Scout Sunday, and the local members of that organization will attend the morning service at the First Methodist Church in a body. This week a Court of Honor was held for the local Girl Scouts, and throughout Girl Scout Week, March 17-24, special radio announcements will be made by the girls about their work.

They are taking orders now for their delicious cookies, which will be delivered March 22-30. This is their method of "Paying their own way," as American an under-taking as you'll find anywhere. Oh, sure, the comedians across the country have had a field day for some time with jokes about G. S. Cookies.

But it remains true that "you can't kid anything successfully unless it is something good."

Pershing Missiles Going to Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is expected to start sending the new 400-mile range Pershing bombardment missile to Europe about midyear. It will give U.S. Army troops in Germany a longer nuclear reach.

This was indicated by informed sources today after the Pentagon announced the first Army battalion of 75-mile-range Sergeant missiles is due in Europe this month, with other battalions following over the next several months.

The solid fuel Pershing, like the Sergeant, will replace obsolescent liquid fuel battlefield missiles which take hours to prepare for firing. Both the Pershing and the Sergeant can be launched in minutes.

Police Seeking Bayonet Slayer

HAMBURG, Ark. (AP) — A man with bushy red hair wanted in connection with the bayonet slaying of Tommy Rogers, 20, in Hamburg last Friday night is thought to have left Hamburg Tuesday, State Police disclosed today.

They said the man was wearing a black leather jacket and carrying a package, and that he apparently got a ride with a Negro man from Pine Bluff to Missouri.

State Police said they were seeking the Negro to find out where he took the man.

Rogers was slain in a $125 robbery as he tended his father's service station in Hamburg. Sheriff Guy Morrison of Hamburg said earlier in the week that a red-haired man was thought to be in a car with three other persons somewhere in Texas.

Easter Seal Girl to See Caroline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brenda Heaton, 8, the national Easter Seal child, went to the White House today hoping to see Caroline Kennedy, but had to settle for a visit with the President.

Brenda, a cerebral palsy victim who gets around with the aid of crutches and leg braces, visited with President Kennedy for about 15 minutes and presented him the first sheet of 1963 Easter Seals.

The seals are being mailed to 40 million homes in a drive to raise $21 million to support the rehabilitation program of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

After her chat with the President, Brenda was asked what she wanted to see most at the White House.

"I wanted to see Caroline," she replied.

But the President's daughter was attending kindergarten class in the White House living quarters.

To make up in part for Caroline's absence, Kennedy walked with his guest to the porch outside his office, pointed out Caroline's play yard, and whistled loudly to summon the family's German shepherd dog, Clipper.

Brenda was accompanied to the White House by her mother, Constance Heaton, and by actress Shirley Booth, Easter Seal campaign chairman. Brenda's father, Albert, is an appliance repairman. The family lives in Downers Grove, Ill., where Brenda is a third grade student in the public schools.

Charged With Shooting Doctor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Raymond Ralph Roberts, 47, was charged Thursday with murder in the fatal shooting of Dr. Keith E. Herlocker, 48, psychologist at the Veterans administration Hospital at North Little Rock.

Roberts, of El Dorado, was arraigned before U.S. Commissioner John E. Coates and ordered held in the Pulaski County jail without bond. He had been in the jail in lieu of a $10,000 bond, charged with assault with intent to kill.

Herlocker died Wednesday night at the North Little Rock hospital. He had been shot in the head with a .32 caliber pistol Monday.

Roberts was arrested by North Little Rock police, shortly after the shooting. He has denied any connection with the shooting.

Bitar Named Premier In Syrian Coup

By WEBB MCKINLEY

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—The Revolutionary Council in Damascus announced today veteran politician Salah Bitar has been named premier of Syria in the wake of an army coup d'etat staged by officers friendly to Egypt's President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Bitar was a minister in the United Arab Republic cabinet when Syria and Egypt were joined as one nation. He quit, however, before the final split two years ago and has maintained his support for Syrian independence.

The new rulers claimed complete control of the turbulent country and proclaimed today a national holiday. They said the coup took place without bloodshed.

There were reports of scattered resistance within Syria, but the country's borders were sealed and it was impossible to check them.

Iraq sent troops to the Syrian border and said it would fight to prevent any interference with the new government.

Both Egypt and Iraq warned other countries to keep hands off.

American sources said all U.S. citizens in Damascus were safe.

Nasser, in Cairo, issued a statement saying his government's support for the new Syrian regime "has no limits" and told its leaders, "We await your instructions." Egypt granted diplomatic recognition.

A new 20-man cabinet was announced in Syria at dawn today. Bitar, its chief, is believed to favor continued Syrian independence with close ties to Egypt and also to the revolutionary government in Iraq.

Bitar is the leader of the moderate wing of the Arab Baath Socialist Party. This is a multi-national party in the Arab world and the group which recently staged the Iraqi revolution.

Discontent In Cuba Is Indicated

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today there is growing discontent in Cuba and several hundred thousand Cubans have indicated they want to flee Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime.

"The economic situation is grim," Rusk said. "There is evidence of great and growing discontent on that island."

"The fact that a couple of hundreds of thousands of Cubans have given up all their material possessions and left Cuba to seek freedom abroad since the beginning of this present regime would indicate that Cuba is not a satisfactory place in which to live now."

"Our information is that several hundred thousands of these Cubans have indicated their desire to leave the country if possible."

Rusk spoke in a recorded radio interview for an AFL-CIO program.

"There is no question whatever in my mind that the Cuban people will again be free," he said. "But we cannot be precise today about just how and when this will come about."

Rusk said there is no way to measure Cuban public sentiment with complete accuracy because the Cubans have had no election since Castro took over more than four years ago.

"The (Castro) regime has mismanaged their agricultural practices so that from a relatively prosperous economy, one of the most prosperous economies in the hemisphere, Cuba's has dropped to a typical satellite economy of the sort that we have seen in East Germany, North Viet Nam and other places," Rusk said.

Actor Has Mild Skin Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Van Johnson is in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital for surgery today, necessitated by what his studio said is "a mild case of skin cancer on his left thigh."

Johnson, 46, entered the hospital Thursday. Friends said biopsy tests indicated a need for immediate hospital treatment.

Paramount Studios, where he is filming "Wives and Lovers," said his doctor has assured Johnson that he will be able to return to work by March 18.

Jury Does Not Reveal Findings

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—The U.S. Grand Jury for the Western District of Arkansas continued its work Thursday without giving any indication of the nature of its investigations.

The jury recessed until 9 a.m. today.

Owney Madden, former New York underworld czar who has resided in Hot Springs since the 1930s, was in the jury room Thursday, as he has been each day since the jury session began.

International Life Has Ups and Downs

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—That ebbs-and-flows rhythm President Kennedy sees in national and international life alternates between hot jazz, a slow waltz and pandemonium, particularly in Congress.

When things slow down one place, by Kennedy's theory, they perk up in another. For example, the Russians ease pressure on Europe and then French President de Gaulle with the heat off, causes his own allies trouble.

Add while Congress has done practically nothing on Kennedy's domestic program, as he noted this week, individual members find time to punt for facts about foreign dealings, especially Cuba.

At this point up pops Rep. George Mahon to complain that both Democrats and Republicans in Congress, and members of the administration, too, have been talking too much about things he thinks should be kept secret.

The Texas Democrat, a voice in the wilderness at the moment, said:

"There is an intelligence gap in the intelligence of those who are daily revealing the secrets of the intelligence operations of the United States government."

His call for silence will be welcomed by the Kennedy administration which, already having been accused of "managing" the news about Cuba, has been pushed into giving out information about it in dribs and drabs.

This is a dilemma it might have avoided by giving out more information before—most pointedly about the Cuban invasion failure in 1961—and for these reasons:

Kennedy himself admitted it was American-backed and took full responsibility for it. Once that had been admitted other details could have been given without endangering the American intelligence system.

For instance: The number of Americans killed in the try to demolish Castro.

For weeks members of both parties in Congress have been heating a steady tattoo on the President.

A few have been so carried away by their ardor for extinguishing Castro that they have called for a Cuban blockade. Kennedy had to remind them at his news conference Wednesday a blockade means war.

It was probably Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., who got under the administration's skin more than anyone else with his doubts that all the Russian missiles were out of Cuba.

Kennedy felt compelled to defend himself by putting Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and an aide on television for two hours last month to show, with aerial photographs, how the United States spied on Cuba.

This may have saved time and trouble for Soviet agents who had been sniffing and snooping to find out what the United States had found out, but it only invigorated some members of Congress to fresh pursuit.

While Mahon didn't put the finger on the people he wants to pipe down, there has been a great deal of talking.

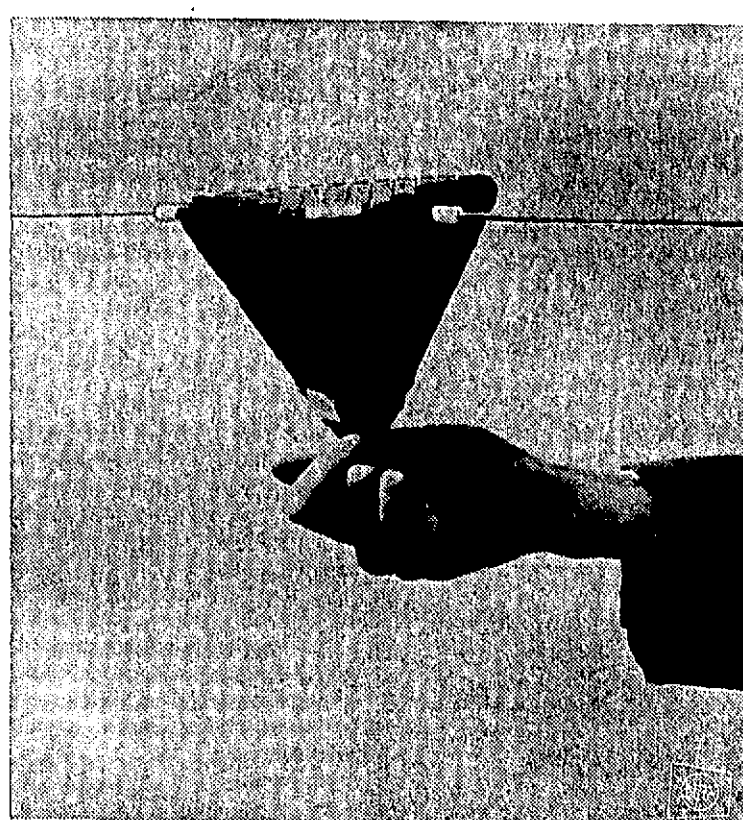

Republican Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen reportedly told Kennedy the Republicans will continue to pound away at the administration's handling of Cuba. He's been conducting a one-man investigation of it.

A Democrat, Sen. John Stennis of Mississippi, whose Senate Preparedness subcommittee is investigating, has demanded "full disclosure" of all available facts from the administration.

He was backed by another Democrat, Sen. Philip A. Hart of Michigan, who said "the people are concerned."

And this week intelligence chief John A. McCone made front pages with information he gave Congress behind closed doors, or he must have thought.

He told a House subcommittee as many as 1500 men from other Latin American countries were being trained as guerrillas in Cuba. Then the subcommittee made it public.

Rejection to Bring Tax Reforms

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources predicted today that if Congress trims President Kennedy's tax cut proposal and rejects most of his reforms, Kennedy will come back with a 1964 tax bill stressing reforms.

The shift in strategy would not be too painful for Kennedy, it was hinted, because an initial, simple, one-shot tax reduction is basically what Kennedy had in mind last year when he first called for "an across the board, top to bottom cut."

"The economic impact would be greater than that of the three-year stretchout of rate reduction," Kennedy finally chose to ask, informants said and from that standpoint has been preferred by the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

The administration now is reported to be hoping that an acceptable bill—even if it differs considerably from Kennedy's program—can be enacted in time to take effect October 1.

"If we hadn't had the deficit problem, we would have recommended a one-shot reduction of around $6 billion or $7 billion, leaving reform until a later date," one official disclosed.

Faced with an unexpectedly large budget deficit when the time came to send his fiscal program to Congress, Kennedy chose to ask rate reductions about twice as deep—more than $13 billion—with their budget impact offset in part by reforms and a spread-out in effective dates.

The $3-billion worth of revenue-raising reforms was expected to assure the support of the No. 1 tax man in Congress, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark. chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and to placate the secretary of the Treasury, Douglas Dillon.

In the end, Kennedy's tax message became a mixture to suit the tastes of the economists, the tax purists and the tax cutters.

Manned Missiles Still the Best

WASHINGTON (AP)—Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay says that even though the Soviet Union is stressing ballistic missiles, the "manned bomber is still the dominant long-range weapons system."

Before a closed meeting of the Senate Armed Services Committee Thursday, LeMay and Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert dropped a few words in favor of continued production of bombers.

Testifying on the Air Force's share of the new $55-billion defense budget, LeMay said the "manned bomber is still the dominant long-range weapons system."

Before a closed meeting of the Senate Armed Services Committee Thursday, LeMay and Secretary of the Air Force Eugene M. Zuckert dropped a few words in favor of continued production of bombers.

Democrats Want Tax Cut Action

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats called for faster action on President Kennedy's tax cut bill and his various economic proposals today in the wake of a jump in the national jobless rate to 6.1 per cent.

The new figure, reflecting February employment figures, was announced Thursday by the Labor Department. It was the highest seasonally adjusted rate in 14 months and compared with 5.9 per cent in January.

Republicans interpreted the announcement as vindication of their argument that Kennedy has not met the test set in the 1960 campaign — to get the country moving again.

A key figure in the fight over the tax bill who asked not to be identified told a reporter that if the unemployment rate stayed above 6 per cent when the March figures are announced in April, he was certain that House Ways and Means Committee would approve tax reduction. That group now is in the midst of lengthy public hearings on the bill.

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said the increased unemployment rate "clearly demonstrates the necessity in the Congress to act promptly on the President's recommendations for legislation to strengthen our economy and provide more jobs."

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., a member of the tax-writing Finance Committee, said "we need to increase demand and consequently production and employment by a tax cut and we need some additional public works in areas of high unemployment."

Democrats said the jobs decline also should build support in Congress for quick passage of the $500 million in emergency public works funds still not voted out of $900 million authorized last year.

However, House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana said "if this is an example of progress on the New Frontier, we'd better try another road."

Can't Connect Smoking, Cancer

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Smoking apparently has no connection with throat cancer, a St. Louis cancer specialist says.

Dr. Joseph A. Ogura said Wednesday the incidence of throat cancer has not changed during the past 20 years although the smoking habit has become more widespread.

Ogura is here to address the 26th annual New Orleans Graduate Medical Assembly.

Cancer of the throat, he told newsmen, is "pretty highly curable," and the voice box can be saved in nearly 50 per cent of the cases.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislation to provide office space and expense allowances for presidents-elect and vice presidents-elect and for outgoing presidents and vice presidents was introduced Thursday by Rep. Dante Fascell, D-Fla.

Soviets To Withdraw More Troops

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union has renewed its promise that between now and next weekend several thousand Russian troops will be sailing home from Cuba.

Soviet Ambassador Antoly S. Dobrynin put the pledge publicly on the record late Friday.

"I have already mentioned to Secretary Rusk that we will withdraw several thousand troops... We will do what we promised we will do," he told newsmen at the State Department.

Earlier in the day the secretary of state had told a news conference that the outflow of Russian soldiers from Cuba was already under way and enough Russian ships are moving to Cuba to carry out the several thousand military men.

How many is "several thousand?" Neither Rusk nor Dobrynin would be more specific.

Washington first got word from the Kremlin last month that it intended to withdraw several thousand troops by mid-March.

Moscow, according to a Feb. 21 White House announcement, identified the personnel to be withdrawn as the troops who had guarded offensive weapons, plus some specialists who have been training Cubans.

Since then there have been reports of Russians leaving Cuba and some government sources said it appeared that a few troops were leaving each day. But on Wednesday President Kennedy said at a news conference the withdrawal was moving too slowly to please him.

U.S. authorities have estimated there were 22,000 Russian military personnel — including technicians — in Cuba at the peak of the crisis last fall.

About 5,000 Russians were reported to have left with the removal of Soviet offensive missiles and bombers, leaving—according to Washington's count—about 17,000.

The U.S. position is that there should be no Russian military personnel in Cuba. But for now, Washington is concentrating on the current withdrawal.

Rusk said the U.S. government would make an assessment "somewhat later" as to just what the current withdrawal amounts to.

Meanwhile, words were still flying in Congress over Cuba past, present and future. And Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield tried to stem some of them. He urged senators Friday to weigh their words and judge whether they might "help drive the people and the President toward war."

He referred to what he called a "macabre fixation" over the reports of four Americans being killed in the unsuccessful 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion and described it as "political prowling over the dead."

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen, replying to Mansfield, said there was no wonder the confirmation of the four American deaths had led the people "to conjecture what is the truth and what did happen."

Rail to Enter Barge Competition

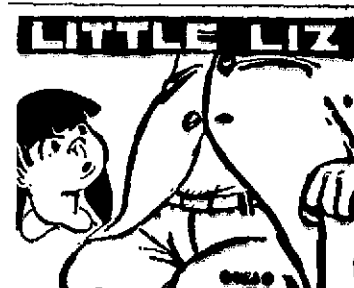

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — L. W. Menk, president of the St. Louis-San Francisco Railway Co., said Thursday his firm plans to enter the barge business on the Arkansas River.

Following his announcement at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon A. C. Ingersoll Jr., president of Federal Barge Lines of St. Louis, welcomed the competition, saying, "it's been our experience on the Missouri river that competition between barge lines stimulates business."

Ingersoll was in Tulsa for a meeting of the Arkansas Basin Development Association.

Menk said his firm would ask, through a subsidiary, for Interstate Commerce Commission permission to operate barges on the river.

Frisco Transportation Co., the wholly-owned subsidiary, now operates trucks.

Bellhops Are Not Needed Anymore

By LEN TALIAFERRO

Associated Press Staff Writer
The hotel bellhop may be a victim of progress. Indications are that as the popularity of motels grows, the bellhop is disappearing from the scene.

"People just don't need a bellhop anymore," says Ricks Hall, bell captain at the Mountain Inn Hotel in Fayetteville. "They drive right up to their doors and carry their own bags in."

Hall said he thought his hotel had met the competition from motels by modernizing and becoming an auto hotel. He says that the modernization has affected his business considerably.

"There are lots of people in the hotel," he said. "But if they want something they go out and get it themselves."

With the exception of hotels in the Little Rock and Hot Springs areas, this appears to be the situation throughout the state.

An Association Press poll of bellhops in every section of Arkansas showed that most are concerned "with business leaving hotels to take advantage of the convenience of motels."

Because of this hotels have been forced to reduce their bellhop staffs.

"I remember when we used to have seen men on a shift," said a Fort Smith bell captain, "now we have only two and they sit around most of the time."

The bell captain, who said he had been with his hotel for 37 years, said that business had been getting progressively worse since World War II.

In Little Rock and Hot Springs, hotels seem to be holding their own.

Maceo L. Butler, bell captain at the Hotel Arlington in Hot Springs said that his hotel had shown an increase in guests for the past five years.

Butler pointed out that racing season at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs always bring good crowds, but he said business for the bellhops during racing season wasn't as good as during other times of the year.

After the close of racing season Butler said he expected a different type of clientele that would be freer with tips.

"The racing crowd doesn't tip very well," Butler said. He said the best tippers were the people who would be visiting the Arlington to take advantage of the health facilities.

"These people," he said, "do not like to associate with the racing crowd and will begin to show up after Oaklawn Park closes."

Butler said a day's tips at the Arlington would average about $6 during the good season. He added that the amount a bellhop made

Confusion in Cuba Takes 3 Directions

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Cuban confusion takes three directions. What really happened in the Cuban invasion of 1961? What's happening in Cuba now? What's the United States going to do about it?

President Kennedy could clear up the first but is reluctant. He probably doesn't yet have the answer to the other two. So Cuba will stay high in the news, but foggy.

The more confused the news, the more the Kennedy administration stands to be hurt by bewildered public reaction.

Right after the merican-backed invasion of their homeland by Cuban refugees fell on its face two years ago, Kennedy said he thought the facts of the matter would come out in due time.

They've been coming out in bits ever since, including Kennedy's announcement, shortly after the invasion collapsed in the Bay of Pigs, that he took full responsibility for it.

As some of the facts leak out even language, which seemed to have no particular significance at the time, takes on a special meaning.

For example, on April 12, 1961, a few days before the invasion, Kennedy said:

"This government will do everything it can to make sure that there are no Americans involved in any action inside Cuba." Now the word "inside" looks a lot more meaningful than it did then.

Later it was disclosed, but in a confused way, that four Americans were killed while taking part in the invasion. It seems, although it hasn't been made clear, they were not taking part "inside" Cuba but outside it over water.

To add to the obscurity of what they were doing, there's one version which says they were flying combat planes and another which says they were flying a cargo plane.

And Wednesday Kennedy, for the first time, confirmed the fact that any Americans took a direct part in the invasion at all although, if he had revealed it earlier, there wouldn't have been any surprise now.

He refused to give details but said the men "were serving their country."

A few hours later Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus said 12 Arkansas National Guardsmen were recruited by the federal government for the invasion and some of the flew combat missions at the Bay of Pigs although all are home now.

Still later Maj. Gen. W. P. Wilson, head of the Air National Guard, said that to his knowledge no Guardsmen from Arkansas were involved in flying combat at the Bay of Pigs.

More of the invasion facts will probably dribble out, adding more confusion, unless Kennedy decides in tips would depend on personality of the boy and the crowd he manages to wait on during the day.

One boy might make $2 one day while another would make $10, he said.

In Little Rock, hotels such as the Marion, the Grady Manning and the Albert Pike have been able to avoid much of the motel competition by having their own parking garages.

Others, such as the Sam Peck have become auto hotels where guests may conveniently park near their rooms.

Many bellhops said the major portion of the business in their hotels now is traveling salesmen. Some said that even many of these are leaving to take advantage of motel convenience.

In El Dorado, a bell captain said that most of the salesmen who still stopped at his hotel were old customers who had been going there for years. He complained that his tips were now averaging about $1 a day.

The jacket and dress costume is a favorite fashion for spring. Buttoned jerkin (center) covers a shirtwaist dress with hen-champagne silk lining (left) has a cut-away jacket with braided closing. The short-sleeved dress beneath has new fluid silhouette, uncluttered by seams or belt. Black silk linen, back. Dress has navy silk linen top. All are Ben Barrack designs.

Pleasant bedroom-sitting room combines a cool white background with deep, jewel-toned fabrics on bed and chairs. Bedspread fabric cutouts are glued and sealed with plastic onto white window shades. Folding screens replace drapes.

Indictments by Federal Jury

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A federal grand jury issued an indictment report of 26 routine indictments Wednesday before tackling heavier work.

Judge John E. Miller said in accepting the report from the U.S. Grand Jury for the Western District of Arkansas, "We wanted to get the routine matters into their proper divisions before you get into more complicated matters."

He did not say what they were. The specifications of the charges, reported mostly of routine nature, were not revealed, pending a check to see whether all persons named are in custody or under bond.

To tell the full story or at least a lot more than has been revealed.

Still a puzzle—although Kennedy may not be able to answer this one—is why the Soviets still have an estimated 15,000 to 17,000 troops in Cuba.

They could be there for any one of a number of reasons:

To protect Fidel Castro from revolution; to train his Cubans; to discourage an American invasion since an attack on them would probably mean war with Russia; or maybe train Communists from other Latin-American countries in fighting so they can go home and have a revolution.

Last Friday, John A. McCone, U.S. intelligence chief, said 1,000 to 1,500 men from other Latin-American nations went to Cuba in 1962 for sabotage and guerrilla training and more have arrived this year.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, despite doubts raised in Congress, insists Soviet Premier Khrushchev has removed the missiles which caused last October's crisis and that Cuba now has no weapons for offensive war.

Some questions had been raised in Congress. What's in all those caves in Cuba? Wednesday the Army's top intelligence officer, Maj. Gen. Alva R. Fitch, said Soviet military supplies, including ammunition, vehicles and aircraft probably are stored in thousands of caves in Cuba—but not offensive missiles or bombers.

This leaves the most important question. What to do about Castro? The administration has given no public answer to that. Invasion seems out of the question, since that might mean war with Russia.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., called for a blockade. Wednesday Kennedy said a blockade would mean war.

Bill Would Lower Tax for Some

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The House voted today to consider a special order a business Monday a bill to reduce the state income tax for persons with dependents.

The bill by Hot Spring County Rep. Bill Tucker would increase the credit for each dependent from $6 to $10 and would amount to a saving for each taxpayer of $4 for each dependent.

The House passed Senate bills to:

Refund 4.5 cents of the 5 cents per gallon state gasoline tax on fuel used in city buses.

Create a state law enforcement training academy under the State Police.

Establish a state park on Hurricane Creek in Columbia County.

Establish another state park near proposed Lake Poinsett in Poinsett County.

Require fraternal benefit insurance companies to maintain a surplus of $100,000 for protection of policyholders.

Deficiencies in Powell Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal audit of the juvenile delinquency project in Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's Harlem district is reported to have disclosed "a number of deficiencies" in procedure.

The project—which drew some sharp criticism in Congress—is being carried out under a $250,000 federal grant to an organization called Associated Community Teams, of which Powell is a director.

Thursday, Rep. John M. Ashbrook, R-Ohio, placed in the congressional record a report of an audit by the Department of Welfare which administers the juvenile delinquency grant program.

He also put into the record a Feb. 20 letter from Bernard Russell, director of the department's Livingston Wingate, in charge of the Harlem project.

In his letter, Russell said an audit noted a number of deficiencies, such as:

1. The checking account balance was not carried forward after Jan. 7. The last posting to the cash book was Nov. 30, 1962. The position of bookkeeper-auditor has not been filled.

2. The method of keeping accounts is inadequate to control expenditures.

Street cars began operation in Little Rock in 1876, and electric lights twelve years later.

DOROTHY DIX

EXCEPTION TO THE RULE
By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I am a happy woman. Is that being old-fashioned? My husband and I always agree. We celebrated our 60th wedding anniversary in January.

Our four children, three boys and a girl, never caused us any trouble. Now that they are grown and married, we rejoice in the additions to our happy family; three wonderful daughters-in-law and an equally fine son-in-law who treat us as their very own.

We have six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren, every bit as nice as their parents. Yet when I tell this to people we meet they raise their eyebrows as if to say, "You're dated. Don't you know that being happy is out of style?"

Plays used to have happy endings but no more. Books about normal, everyday good folks are considered trite. The actors who get the awards are those who portray dope fiends, juvenile delinquents, alcoholics and prostitutes. The more bullets and gunfire on TV the better. My husband and I tuned into a TV show called "Naked City" the other night and were so appalled we quickly turned it off. They said the cheating and lying and stealing and murder which made up the story were all part of living today. But is that really life? Am I an old fuddy-duddy? —Happy Grandma

Dear Helen: It depends upon what you mean by happiness. To me happiness lies in surmounting difficulties, achieving your goal, whatever it be. Goodness and evil, joy and sorrow. That is life.

Trouble makes for a fuller and richer life. Although you glorify the good and minimize the bad, I'm sure you've had your share of sorrow, else you would not be able to appreciate your happiness. It's like shadow and sunshine, night and day; we must experience the one to recognize the great value of the other.

Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Ten Commandments for Happiness."

Dear Helen: It is quite evident from your reply to Mrs. Raab's protest to your stand on trailers and mobile homes, that you are not up-to-date about the vast difference between a modern mobile home park and the gypsy trailer camps of other days.

Our doctor told us to dispose of our two-story home and move to a one-floor home—preferably a mobile home.

About this time we were invited to call upon some friends who had lived for years in Milford, Conn. To our amazement we found the "auto" homes in reasonably spacious surroundings with well-kept lawns, a profusion of beautiful flowers and shrubs. Our friends' home was paneled throughout, the acme of comfort and convenience.

These modern mobile homes are 50 to 55 feet long and from 10 to 20 feet wide, with wheels removed and the houses mounted on cinder blocks. Most of them have a complete foundation of such blocks. Special trucks are required to move them as no ordinary car could haul them even if the traffic laws permitted.

While the park is rated the most orderly and best managed in the East, with some 300 families as permanent residents, it is only one of thousands scattered across the United States.

Our water supply is pure and abundant, our furnace a marvel of compact efficiency and we cook by reliable propane gas, more dependable than city gas in cold weather.

We never have to paint inside or out and service of any kind is always available. Our rented lot is 50 feet wide and extends 90 feet from the street where we live. A decorative hedge separates us from the famed Connecticut Post Center. Our neighbors range from reliable people of limited means to those who have a large share of this world's goods. All are orderly, peace-loving citizens who vote and in many instances pay large personal property city taxes on their mobile homes.

Most mobile home owners are just as much permanent residents as you are, with pride in our surroundings and premises. No barracks for us, contrary to what your husband may think. —Colin J. Douglas, Ryder Park, Milford, Conn.

Dear Mr. Douglas: Thanks for enlightening me. But, beguiling as your description of a mobile home is, I still prefer my New York apartment.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help

Finland Downs U. S. Hockey Team

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Finland gave the United States team a thorough 11-3 trouncing today in the Americans' first game in the World Amateur Ice Hockey Championship. The Finns, beaten by Russia 6-1 Thursday in their opening game in the eight-team, Group A round-robin competition, jumped into a 3-1 lead in the first period and made it 9-2 in the second. Troubled by penalties, the Americans were forced to play a defensive game and were pinned in their own defense zone for long stretches. They seldom were able to break away for shots. Only the Group A teams are competing for the world title, although 13 other nations play in two lower groups.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The state Racing Commission will hold a hearing at Oaklawn Park Saturday for three Audley Farms employees suspended Tuesday after a chemist reported illegal drugs were used on a horse.

Dr. Ed Dunaway of Conway, chairman of the commission, said the parties involved had requested the hearing. He said the commission takes up all such suspension cases. Suspended were Bryan Webb, trainer for Audley; Arthur M. Bosley, assistant trainer, and Juan Pablo Gutierrez, a groom. The stable's horses also were suspended when Audley named a new trainer, Fred W. Hannon.

Hope Second In Meet At Texarkana

By CARTER HARDAGE Hope Star Sports Editor

Hope's track team continued to show improvement despite such obstacles as pulled muscles, a mud hole for a home track, and transportation which konks out five miles from home and thus necessitates that everyone, manager, sportswriter, miller, and vaulter, either stay with the dead vehicle and pray for a miracle, or jog to town and hope you don't fall in the darkness and break a leg, and thus starve to death in the wilderness. However, everyone seems to have made it, though not without needless worry on behalf of many people.

In their second meet in three days, Hope met Texarkana, Arkansas, Texarkana, Texas, Hooks, New Boston, and Liberty Eylau, at Texarkana. The scoring was on a 5-3-2-1 and 3-2-1-1/2 basis. That is, in the first heat of each event, the winner gets five points, second place 3, and so on. In the second heat, winner gets 3, second 2, and so on. Hope wound up in third place with 38 points, behind Texas High with 43 1/2 and Arkansas High with 70 one-sixth.

Hope captured first place in the 440-yard dash, 108-yard low hurdles, and the second heat of the 220-yard dash. The Bobcats took either second or third in the following events: 440 relay, 100 yard dash, mile run, 880 relay, 180-yard low hurdles, 880 run, 220 dash, high jump, pole vault, and broad jump.

The Junior Boys made a fine showing by taking second place in their division with 43 1/2 points, following only North Heights with 45 1/2.

Generation Without Cause

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Calling today's youth "a generation without a cause," a Methodist bishop says the church is not presenting them enough of a challenge.

Bishop James W. Henley of Jacksonville, Fla., told delegates to the Southeastern Jurisdictional Council of the Methodist Church that "youth around the world is on the loose."

"They are a generation without a cause," the bishop said Wednesday night. "Somebody or something is going to get them, and whoever gets them has control of the world."

An orderly brought her Miss Hanniman's message. The Director.

Dr. Ed Dunaway of Conway, chairman of the commission, said the parties involved had requested the hearing. He said the commission takes up all such suspension cases. Suspended were Bryan Webb, trainer for Audley; Arthur M. Bosley, assistant trainer, and Juan Pablo Gutierrez, a groom. The stable's horses also were suspended when Audley named a new trainer, Fred W. Hannon.

Bread is for the body — but there is also bread for the mind and the soul. How wise are families who make their breakfast a spiritual meal as well as material. The old custom of devotion at the breakfast table is returning. Surely, we shall be a better people for it. Tempers will be better disciplined, delinquency not so universally rampant, and we shall get on together better when we begin the day as God's children. This lost art of Bible reading at breakfast must be found again. What better use of a few minutes in the morning than to spend them listening to the words of prophets and sages and apostles? Why not choose a good meal for the soul even as we prepare food for the body? Keep your spiritual health. Attend church. Be strong in the Lord. "Man does not live by bread alone." Then start your day with Bible reading at breakfast.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we on Sunday "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

So They May See == Psalm 91 == So They May Hear

HE THAT DWELLETH in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

2. I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God; in him will I trust.

3. Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

4. He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5. Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day;

6. Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

7. A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee.

8. Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.

BECAUSE THOU hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation;

10. There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11. For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12. They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

13. Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.

14. Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.

15. He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him, and honour him.

16. With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.
